

Monica Slater Stokes
Managing Director, Corporate and Government Affairs
United Airlines

Monica Slater Stokes is a twenty-five year veteran of government relations and policy-making positions. In her current role at United Airlines, she oversees government affairs in NY, NJ and the Northeast Region – developing and driving external affairs programs in support of the company’s public policy and community affairs objectives.

Prior to joining United, Monica served as Director of Constituent Services and Community Development for the late U.S. Senator Frank Lautenberg, advising on complex immigration cases, as well as state and local education, small business and economic development issues.

Monica, a Newark native, has a Bachelor’s Degree in Sociology from the University of Vermont. She sits on the boards of the New Jersey Alliance for Action, the Newark Museum, Newark Regional Business Partnership and the Regional Plan Association. She is also a trustee on the NY Citizen Budget Commission, a member of the Association for a Better New York Steering Committee and serves on the Community Advisory Board of NJTV.
